SANTA FE'S OLDEST MILLINERY STORE. IN BUSINESS SINCE EIGHTEEN EIGHTY-FIVE

In the Fall of 1885, Miss A. Mugler who had come to Santa Fe a short time before from Lawrence, Kansas, opened a small millinery shop in an old adobe building on the East side of the Plaza where the Catron Building now stands.

Miss Mugler's unquestioned ability as a milliner, coupled with an attentive interest in serving her customers, brought her a good business from the start, and this business has increased steadily with the growth of the city.

In 1904, Miss Mugler moved her business to its present location at the south East corner of the Plaza, a location which will soon become even more advantageous when the new La Fonda Hotel is completed and opened.

Miss Mugler now has associated with her in the business, her sister, Mrs. Christine Wintz and her niece, Miss Anna L. Hase, both of whom have had long experience and can be depended upon to give courteous attention to the wants of the most particular and fastidious customer.

Besides an unquestionably fine line of high grade millinery, the store now carries a complete line of materials for made-to-order hats. Other goods now carried in stock comprise a good line of knitting yarns and threads, embroidery cottons and silks, crochet articles, flosses, ribbons, velvets, laces, etc.

It is a store at which any woman will find it a pleasure to trade and may always feel sure of getting value received.

"IF WATER WON'T HURT IT, WE WON'T."

This slogan and the most modern of laundry equipment, now installed in the Santa Fe Electric Laundry are fast convincing Santa Feans that the family washing and the choicest fabrics can be cleaned far more conveniently, economically and with none of the wear and tear of the old fashioned washwoman. The laundry is now going on its eleventh year in Santa Fe and is finally embedded as one of its most progressive and useful institutions.

The electric laundry as a means of cleansing the family clothes, is here to stay. Recent years the laundry owners association obtained the Mellon Institute of Scientific Research to work out ways and means that would thoroughly and sanitarily clean clothes, and yet subject them to none of the harsh treatment in vogue by hand methods. The results of this work can best be seen by a glance at the methods used here in the Santa Fe Laundry.

The clothes are not rubbed. They are flushed through many cleansing waters in a revolving washer. They literally wash themselves, dropping against each other gently and loosening the dirt thereon. Thus all danger of broken buttons and frayed garments is removed.

No harsh soaps are used. Nothing but the softest water and Ivory soap.
And hundreds of pleased customers each day testify that "it does the business."

The clothes are not vigorously wrung and wringed dry, or turned through a wringer, as is necessary by hand. They are placed in a centrifugal basket, where by being whirled around at a high rate of speed the water is extracted without any damage to the fabrics.

DRY CLEANING AND PRESSING

Since the fire this summer, one of the most complete dry-cleaning and pressing plants in New Mexico was installed, and the Electric Laundry tailors are daily turning out increasing amounts of mid-lady's wardrobe with "no gasoline odor." A hat blocking and cleaning department is also one of the features of their service.

TAOS DOG POISONER HAS HIS TITLE READ CLEARLY

(The Taos Valley News)

On Friday night of last week, seven dogs were poisoned by strychnine among the number being several valuable thoroughbreds. It is said that the poison was thrown from an automobile coming from Canon. Who in Taos is guilty of such a dastardly act? To my mind there should be a particular little hell devised for such persons. If the dogs around town annoy such of the pinon eating public whose main object in life is to drink hooch and vote the Democratic ticket I ask them in the name of humanity to take a gun (a la Billy the Kid) and at least kill outright the poor brutes who happen to offend them.
Anyone who will deliberately put poison out in the open is a sneak and a coward, not to be trusted even in the smallest affairs of life. He is dis-picable, a loathsome thing not a human being and deserves the righteous indignation of decent people to be heaped upon his heathly head—Taos, N. M.

(Ed. Note—Outside of that he is all right.)

From Boston Transcript—FOR SALE—A second hand monument, but slightly used. Great bargain for a family by the name of Duffy.
